Narrative

On Saturday, May 19, 2012 at 2056 hours, I responded to the area of Colony Crossing and Noble Victory Ct. Edgewater, MD for a report of a hit and run that just occurred.

While en route to the location of the incident, Police Communications advised the suspect vehicle, identified as a white minivan bearing Maryland registration 52814M5 had struck the street sign at the above mentioned intersection. After striking the street sign, the vehicle drove through the yard at 15 Noble Victory Ct. and fled the scene.

I was able to run the tag for the vehicle and determined an address of 210 May Ln., which is in the area of this incident. I was able to respond to the address at which time I observed a white Chrysler Town and Country minivan bearing Maryland registration 52814M5. Upon closer inspection, I noticed the vehicle had a destroyed front driver's side tire and some minor damage to the front bumper.

I approached the residence, and was able to make contact with the homeowner, later identified as Synthia Kucner via an MVA file photo. Upon speaking with Ms. Kucner, I identified myself as an Anne Arundel County Police Officer and advised her I was investigating a hit and run accident involving the white van in her driveway. I also immediately detected a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage emanating from her breath and person. I asked Ms. Kucner who was driving the vehicle to which she replied her husband. I asked if her husband was home and she said "no".

I then asked Ms. Kucner if she was driving the vehicle. She stated she wasn't. When I told Ms. Kucner I needed to speak with her husband so I could charge him with the hit and run accident since she had identified him as the driver, Ms. Kucner began to cry and stated that she was the driver of the minivan during the accident.

Ms. Kucner was subsequently charged with several traffic offenses and released on a PD622 form.

The property owner at 15 Noble Victory Ct. was notified of the accident and was given a case number along with my contact information.

No further information at this time. This incident may be closed by arrest.
